1. The general program of the Tudeh Party for the six-months' period from [redacted] contains the following instructions to members:
- Members should make a special effort to attend all meetings punctually, perform their assigned duties with diligence and strictly in accordance with instructions, and keep their dues paid up.
 - Each member must sell one of the Party's newspapers.
 - Members must make every effort to exploit the opportunities offered by their homes and working environments.
 - Members must be actively engaged in propaganda, including the propaganda for peace, everywhere outside Party Headquarters.
 - All workers must take an active part in trade unions.
 - Each member must choose at least one of the following five types of activity:
 - Introducing a new member, joining an instruction class, or establishing a propaganda group cell;
 - Obtaining some type of aid from a Party member or agreeing to sell regularly the two (sic) secret papers of the Party;
 - Introducing two new members of the Azerbaijan Democrat Society, or finding work for an unemployed member;
 - Finding two persons prepared to act as bondsmen for prisoners or providing a secure place for meetings;
 - Providing means of transportation for members or performing some other specially assigned task.
